Government Endorsed

Government of Western Australia
Department of Jobs, Tourism, Science and Innovation

To Whom It May Concern

I am writing in my capacity as the A/ Deputy Director General, Strategy and International Engagement at the Department of Jobs, Tourism, Science and Innovation in Western Australia, in support of the West Australian TVET Consortium (WATVC).

My office is fully committed to all Western Australian educational institutions becoming more engaged in the Asian region and working closely with our important neighbours to realise greater outcomes in employment based skills training and job readiness to unlock greater commercial and social outcomes between our countries.

Our state – which exports over half of all Australian exports – is ranked highly in all world indices of economic and social prosperity, and has much to offer in the area of vocational training to students from countries across the Asian region.

In addition, the recent signing of the Indonesia-Australia Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (IA-CEPA), provides a strong foundation from which to foster increased cooperation in the delivery of technical and vocational education training between Western Australia and Indonesia.

This Consortium of Vocational Education providers brings together the best of several quality institutions in a true Public / Private partnership. All providers in the Consortium have a great deal of international experience and specifically experience in training in a wide range of countries across Asia.

In particular, Western Australia has been an active observer of the ASEAN and ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) and is very well placed to provide support to the ASEAN region in its desire to improve the vocational skills, trainer skills and English competency skills of its people.

I support this collegiate initiative and look forward to welcoming stronger ties in the sharing of vocational skills training and expertise in the region soon.

Yours sincerely
