Current, Active Co-Badged Projects with the University of Western Australia

The University of Western Australia (UWA) was established in 1911 as the State's first university. It was also the first free university in the British Empire, actively promoting equal access to tertiary education for all social classes.

More than 100 years later, the University is now home to nine Faculties and Schools and several Research Institutions and Centres which celebrated the University's Centenary in 2013. UWA also entered the internationally recognised Academic Ranking of World Universities' Top 100 listing, continuing to set the standard for other West Australian universities to follow in terms of recognition for its achievements nationally and internationally.

The University has almost 24,000 students enrolled across nine faculties. A model of broad undergraduate studies followed by postgraduate professional qualifications is designed to produce well-rounded graduates, as well as provide additional entry opportunities for a wider range of students.

As Western Australia's premier university, UWA was equal first overall in Australia based on key measures in the Good Universities Guide 2014 including student demand, graduate outcomes, graduate starting salaries, getting a full-time job and research grants.

The University aims to be counted among the top 50 universities in the world by 2050 and is currently ranked 88th on the Shanghai Jiao-Tong University Academic Ranking of World Universities (ARWU).

1. The Graduate School of Education at The University of Western Australia and Phoenix Academy have undertaken a joint project to deliver a significant Teacher Training contract, The Building Leadership For Change Through School Immersion for The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (KSA).

The KSA contract has brought 49 experienced primary, middle school and secondary teachers and Deputy Principals and Principals from Saudi Arabia through their Ministry of Education (MOE) for a 28-week professional development training program for teachers to Perth.

Out of the 50 KSA projects award globally the only other successful bids in Australia went to two Victorian universities namely Monash University in partnership with Monash College and Melbourne University.

The initial half of the KSA project consisted of Intensive English classes and a professional development stream on the Australian education system delivered by Phoenix and UWA. In the second half of the program the Saudi teachers were placed in a 10-week School Immersion Experience in 15-20 Western Australian schools around the metropolitan area.

2. For the past five years The Graduate School of Education at the University of Western Australia and Phoenix Academy have undertaken a joint project with the Xiacheng District Education Bureau of Hangzhou within the Zhejiang Department of Education. The project consists of in country professional development teacher training sessions delivery at the Teacher s Bureau in Hangzhou and also groups of English, IT, Maths, HASS and STEM teachers coming to Perth for in country training by UWA and Phoenix.
